

Code editors, with HTML, CSS and JavaScript it will render out in your browser. All you have to do is go to the file and open in a browser to view how it looks. All of the below have different benefits and you should pick one that you can get comfortable with. You can style the coding area in the preferences on any of them, so you can have light text with a dark background or light background with dark text.

Open source editor

<http://www.aptana.com/>

Microsoft expression editor

<http://www.microsoft.com/en-US/download/details.aspx?id=36179>

Notepad ++

<https://notepad-plus-plus.org/>

Brackets Editor

<http://brackets.io/>

Sublime Text Editor

<http://www.sublimetext.com/3>